Login page - username, password, forgot password feature, requires email, phone number, address, mailing address, date of birth. (most reqs part of email)

No profile picture to keep anonymous. (unless law added for it to be required)

[12:51 - 12:56] [Alex Q] How do businesses import/display what they want?

Items should be displayed visually on a map and not a directory. (Like google maps)

[12:56 - 13:58] [Evan G] What is the difference between a paid ad versus business listing?

Specification needs to be reworked, but mainly depends on if they were competing with others or not.

[12:58 - 13:02] [Rachelle] What should be on the home page?

Picture with logo, signup button.

Should be able to check the listings without an account. Account only to check people's profiles.

Focus on simple and easy to follow.

[13:02 - 13:17] [Group B] Could you describe how a user would go through the site?

Open the site to look for home sharing. Go to the FAQ/About page to figure out how it works.

(Site needs to focus on proving this service isn't fake.)

They then can check the service listings.

(Groups should make the site how we think is good, as the client doesn't know what's good/what they want. We'll present what we've made and see if they like it or not.)

[13:17 - 13:19] [Alex Q] How does messaging in the site work?

Message person button in their profile, and the message is sent from inside the site. Email or phone notification to the message recipient.

There should be a feature to block other users(makes user invisible to blocked user)

Yes, only need an account if you want to see other users.

[13:31 - 13:36] [Group B] How do businesses list their service?

There should be a button to advertise or register a service.

Service has a separate services account.

Service can check their reviews and ratings.

Service requires to be approved before it is listed.

[13:36 - 13:38] [Parsa] Can users edit their info?

Yes.

[13:38 - 13:50] [Client] Closing a profile hides their reviews.

Try to make it so people can't come back with a new account.

Action Items:

- Choose and tell the client what programming language we will be using.

Set it up so that the service can opt in on multiple locations.

[12:41 - 12:55] [Parsa] Rating system

Members can rate other members, businesses, services.

Show the rating of the business on the listing, with the rating being the combined rating from all their listings (If they have a rating of 5 from their lawn mowing listing and a 0 for their plumbing, it would show 2.5 on all their listings).

Business/services can't rate members

~~Can comment on the listing~~

[12:55 - 12:58] [Parsa] Bookmark system

Members can bookmark other users, services, and business.

Priority on bookmarking other members.

Admin can export user info, ~~and the info exported is based on what is toggled (I want to export a list of all members that found a home, exporting their age and status only).~~

Export pure data into excel file, sort and filter in excel. Dirty data only.

[1:24 - 1:36] [Parsa] Various

Users don't need to be manually verified like business/services

Listings cannot be edited and must be deleted

[1:36 - 1:46] [Jaden] Filtering clarification
